Objective and investment strategy

The fund's objective is to achieve the highest possible return, relative to the risk taken by the fund.

The fund is an equity fund that invests at least 80 per cent in securities listed on a stock exchange or other regulated market in Norway, or issued by companies incorporated in or taxable to Norway.

The fund is actively managed. This means that investment decisions are taken on the basis of internal analysis. The investment philosophy is based on analyses of economic conditions, industry-specific factors and individual companies. It can be characterised as long-term and non-transaction oriented.

Investment in other securities funds may not constitute more than 10 per cent of the fund's assets.

Derivatives may be used as part of the risk management of the fund. Derivatives will not normally be used as an active financial instrument when engaging in general management, but may be used under special circumstances. Expected risk and expected return on the fund's underlying securities portfolio shall remain unchanged as a result of derivative investments. At times expected risk and return may be reduced as a result of derivative investments.

The fund is permitted to lend securities for a limited period of time against payment from the borrower. Lending of securities will not normally be used, but may under specific circumstances with strong financial incentives be used by the fund.

Pareto Asset Management works systematically on ethical considerations in the management of the fund. Pareto Asset Management shall not invest in companies which constitute an unacceptable risk of the fund contributing to unethical acts or omissions. Such contributions could reduce sustainability and long-term value creation. Pareto Asset Management's ethical guidelines are based on the guidelines of Statens pensjonsfond (the Norwegian Government Pension Fund).

Sustainability risks

Due to the nature of the Fund's investment strategy and types of securities it holds, the Fund is exposed to varied Sustainability Risks which include, but are not limited to:

- corporate governance malpractices (e.g. board structure, executive remuneration);
- shareholder rights (e.g. election of the likely directors, capital amendments);
- changes to regulation (e.g. greenhouse gas emissions restrictions, governance codes);
- physical threats (e.g. extreme weather, climate change, water shortages);
- brand and reputational issues (e.g. poor health & safety records, cyber security breaches);
- supply chain management (e.g. increase in fatalities, lost time injury rates, labour relations); and work practices (e.g. observation of health, safety and human rights provisions).

Sustainability Risks are integrated into the investment decision making and risk monitoring to the extent that they represent a potential or actual material risks and/or opportunities. The Investment Manager considers Sustainability Risks as part of its broader analysis of potential investments to maximize the long-term risk-adjusted returns.

In the event that a Sustainability Risk arises, this may cause the Investment Manager to determine that a particular investment is no longer suitable and to sell it or decide not make an investment in it.

Statement that an assessment is undertaken of the likely impacts of those Sustainability Risks on the Fund's return

An assessment is undertaken of the likely impacts of the Sustainability Risks on the Fund's return. Assets held by the Fund may be subject to partial or total loss of value because of the occurrence of a Sustainability Risk due to fines, reduction of demand in the asset's products or services, physical damage to the asset or its capital, supply chain disruption, increased operating costs, inability to obtain additional capital, or reputational damage.

Assessment of Sustainability Risks is complex and requires subjective judgements, which may be based on data which is difficult to obtain and may be incomplete, estimated, out of date or otherwise materially inaccurate. Even when identified, there can be no guarantee that the Investment Manager will correctly assess the impact of Sustainability Risks on the Fund's investments or proposed investments.

Results of that impact assessment

The impacts following the occurrence of a Sustainability Risk may be numerous and may vary depending on the specific risk, region and asset class. In general, where a Sustainability Risk occurs in respect of an asset, there could be a negative impact on, or entire loss of, its value. A Sustainability Risk event may arise and impact a specific investment or may have a broader impact on an economic sector, geographical or political region or country which may impact the portfolio of the Fund in its entirety.

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability indicators

The fund considers principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors ("PAIs"). However, Pareto Asset Management does not consider PAIs at the entity level as it has a number of funds and strategies under management and the aggregation of its individual strategy is of no value to its stakeholders due to the range of those investment strategies and their approaches to sustainability risk integration.

Benchmark index

The fund's benchmark index is Oslo Stock Exchange Mutual Fund Index, (OSEFX). The fund is actively managed and invests independent of the composition of the benchmark index.

The fund is characterised by a relatively high volatility.

The fund's risk profile is described in more detail in the Key Investor Information Document of the fund.

Management fee

The management company may charge a fixed management fee to one or more of the unit classes. In addition, the management company may charge a performance-related management fee to one or more of the unit classes of the fund.

The management fee is allocated equally to each unit within each unit class of the fund.

The fixed management fee is calculated and accrued on a daily basis and charged on a monthly basis.

The fixed management fee shall be deducted prior to the calculation of any performance related fee.

The performance related management fee is calculated and accrued on a daily basis and charged at year-end.

The various unit classes are characterised by the following:

Unit class A

The management fee is 1.80 per cent per annum.
The unit class has a minimum subscription value of NOK 500.

Unit class B

The management fee is 0.95 per cent per annum.
The unit class has a minimum subscription value of NOK 10 000 000.

Minimum subscription value

Total cost for each unit-holder's total subscriptions and redemptions in a unit class is calculated the last business day of the first and third quarter.

If a unit-holder's total cost or market value at the time of calculation meets the minimum subscription value in a comparable unit class with lower management fee, the client's holdings will be converted to this unit class.

If a unit-holder's total cost at time of calculation does not meet the minimum subscription value in the unit class invested, the clients' holdings may be converted to a comparable unit class in which the client meets the minimum subscription value.

In the event where the unit-holder's unit-value has previously been converted to a comparable unit class with lower management fees as a result of positive developments in the market, the client will not be moved back to the original unit class based on negative developments in the market. This assumes that unit-holders have not redeemed units after the original conversion.

Conversion of unit value to a comparable unit class shall be registered on the same day that the calculation is carried out and communicated to unit-holders as soon as possible.
