C	NOK	50 000 000	0,15 % p.a.
D	NOK	None	0,15 % p.a.

The management company can charge one or more of the fund's unit classes with a fixed management fee.

The management fee is allocated equally within the individual class in the fund. The fixed management fee is calculated and accrued on a daily basis and charged on a monthly basis.

What characterizes the different unit classes are the following:

Unit class A

Fixed management fee makes up 0.35 percent per annum.
The unit class has a minimum subscription amount of NOK 500.

Unit class B

Fixed management fee makes up 0.35 percent per annum.
The unit class has a minimum subscription amount of NOK 10 000 000.

Unit class C

Fixed management fee makes up 0.15 percent per annum.
The unit class has a minimum subscription amount of NOK 50 000 000.

If the unit-holder's total cost price or market value at the time of calculation satisfies the minimum requirement in a comparable unit class with a lower management fee, then the client's unit value will be transferred to this unit class.

If the unit-holder's total cost price at the time of calculation does not satisfy the minimum requirement in the unit class unit-holder's is invested in, then the client's unit value will be transferred to a comparable unit class where total cost price satisfies the minimum requirement.

In cases where unit-holder's unit value previously has been transferred from a comparable unit class with a lower management fee as a result of a positive development in market value, the client will not be able to transfer back to their original unit class on the basis of a negative development in market value. This presupposes that unit-holder has not redeemed units in the aftermath of the original transfer.

The transfer of unit value to another comparable unit class shall be registered on the same day as the calculation is carried out and the unit-holder should be notified as soon as possible.

If the transfer of units between unit classes in the same securities fund is an accounting and/ or tax realization, the transfer between the unit classes will only be carried out with the consent of the client.
